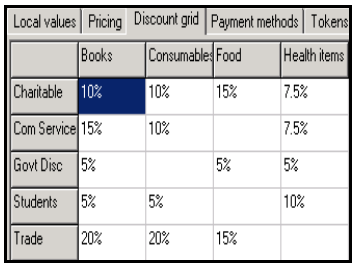
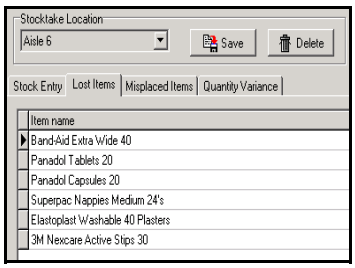
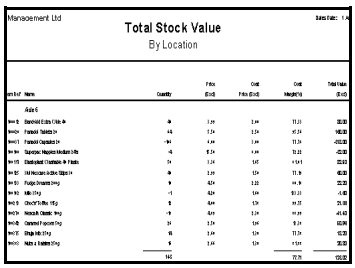
Stock control is handled easily in Stock Management.



The discount grid facilitates unlimited stock and client groups.



Flexibility in stock taking allows you to complete it in your time.



Report functionality gives you up to the minute information.

Chreos' inventory module offers the flexibility, reliability and accuracy that is necessary to maintain the huge range of information that is available to assist in controlling your inventory data.

A range of alternative price setting mechanisms are available including special prices, discount groups and stock bins.

Decide which of the three stock take systems is the best for your business. Chose either a rotational system which maintains full historic data during the process, or between two one-stop options that allow you to efficiently and quickly complete the stock take.

Enjoying the many transaction options and features, and the related reports within Chreos, will help your business run smoothly.
